

Community Living Network (CLN)

The program

The Community Living Network (CLN) is designed to assist adults with developmental disabilities to explore and secure living arrangements within the Calgary region. CLN provides community living support that provides people with choices and helps build the communities' capacity to include people with developmental disabilities.

The process

Following acceptance into the program, a highly personalized process identifies individual community living goals and areas where support may be required. CLN then uses this information to seek out several living situations and presents different options to the applicant. Once the applicant determines where he/she wishes to live, CLN staff work alongside the applicant to locate any needed resources, including funding.

Cost

Funding of each person's support is determined on an individualized basis dependant upon support requirements.
